

MARK DUNN HANGED.

Former Newark Man Pays Death Penalty.

Though Very Ill With Pneumonia, Governor Refused to Interfere.

Believing That the Fear of Death Was Largely Responsible for Dunn's Collapse--Review of
The Case--Disease Would Have Caused
Death by Sunday.

St. Joseph, Mo., March 11.—Mark Dunn, a former Newark, O., man, was hanged at 10:40 o'clock this morning, though nearly dead with pneumonia.

Mark Dunn, 40, a painter by profession, murdered Alfred Fenton, a farmer at Rushville, Mo., July 20, 1902, after the men quarreled at a dance. Dunn shot Fenton in the back. He was reported to have been intoxicated at the time. Dunn pleaded insanity. Convicted he appealed to the supreme court, which confirmed the death sentence. Two reprieves postponed the execution until today.

Last Monday Dunn escaped from the St. Joseph jail, overpowering one of the jailors and overawing two others. During his three days' flight across the country, pneumonia overcame him and caused his capture Wednesday. He escaped a second time and was recaptured Thursday so weak the physicians predicted he would die a natural death by Sunday if not executed.

Governor Dockery, believing the fear of death largely responsible for Dunn's collapse, declined to interfere.

Mark Dunn, semi-delirious from pneumonia, said as he mounted the scaffold: "My life has been sworn away by my enemies."

The scene was pitiful. The condemned man had to be assisted up the steps and supported as he stood on the trap. He was dazed, bewildered and feeble. Physical rather than moral weakness was the cause of any lack of courage he may have betrayed. For 24 hours previous to the execution the jail physician sent out bulletins, telling of the improvement in the murderer's condition after his recapture. Many believe this was done to offset the public clamor against hanging a dying man.

St. Joseph, Mo., March 11.—Facing death from pneumonia and death by the gallows, Mark Dunn, formerly of Newark, Ohio, murderer of Alfred Fenton at Rushville, Mo., was landed in jail here yesterday as a wired the Advocate, after a capture almost as sensational as his escape from behind the bars here last Monday. He is in a dying condition from pneumonia, but unless his demise intervenes Dunn will be hanged in the jail yard here today.

Dunn's capture took place at Guilford, Mo. Shortly after Dunn's escape from the jail here Monday he became ill and was obliged to ask shelter at the home of a farmer in Rosedale. A farmhand who was present suspected that the fugitive Mikado Has Big Force in Korea—Little Knowledge of the War's Progress Gleaned Today.

London, March 11.—It is reported that Japan now has 200,000 men in Korea and a report also comes from the far East that the Japanese have landed a force south of Vladivostok.

Chifu, China, March 11.—A Chinaman who has just arrived here from Korea reports that 15,000 tons of coal, soaked with kerosene, have been placed at the mouth of the Yalu river, in readiness for firing in the event of the Japanese attempting to land there. The Russians, he says, have made every preparation to evacuate their position at the Yalu.

The purpose of burning up the coal is to keep it out of the hands of the Japs.

ALEXIEFF
Makes Report to the Czar—Russians Attacked During the Night.

St. Petersburg, March 11.—The czar has received the following message from Viceroy Alexieff, dated Mukden, March 10:

"The commandant of the fortress at Port Arthur reports that about 1 o'clock Thursday morning the outlines of vessels, apparently torpedo boats, were seen at sea, within the area swept by our searchlights. Our batteries opened fire upon these vessels. Our torpedo boats put out to sea at 2:40 a. m. and at about 4 o'clock we met the enemy, west of the Liao Tishin Lighthouse. After firing several shots the enemy retired to the south in the direction of Shandun. Our torpedo boats returned to the harbor at 6 o'clock.

"Later torpedo boats were again sent to sea to reconnoiter. They returned in an hour, having learned that the enemy's squadron was approaching.

"At 8 o'clock the Japanese opened fire upon our cruisers and the fortress. The enemy had 14 ships and fired the entire time from behind Liao Tishin.

"I have the honor to report the foregoing to your majesty. ALEXIEFF."

LITTLE KNOWLEDGE
Of the War's Progress Gleaned From the London Dispatches.

London, March 11.—Neither the officials nor the independent dispatches published this morning add much knowledge to the progress of the war.

Speculation regarding the military situation on the Yalu river is most keen, but no news of a reliable character has been received.

The Nagasaki correspondent of The Daily Express asserts that 200,000 troops have been shipped from Japan and that a portion of the Second Army corps is now on its way to Korea.

The correspondent of The Daily Chronicle at Tokio, evidently referring to the same movements, cables that the transportation to Northern Korea of three divisions of Japanese troops has been completed and that these men

DIETRICH CASE IS OPENED AT WASHINGTON.

WITNESS SAYS THE SENATOR DEMANDED MONEY

For the Appointment of Postmaster—Mr. Hear Is Chairman of the Investigating Committee.

Washington, March 11.—Formal investigation into the charges that Senator Charles H. Dietrich of Nebraska has used his official position to his personal and financial advantage in the appointment of Jacob B. Fisher as postmaster at Hastings, Neb., and in leasing of his building for post-office purposes, was begun before a sub-committee of the Senate at 10 o'clock this morning with Mr. Hear as chairman and Senators Platt, of Connecticut, Cockrell and Pettie present. Mr. Spooner was the only absentee.

Leopold Mahn of Omaha, formerly postmaster at Hastings, the first witness examined, testified among other things that Jacob Fisher had consulted him in April, 1891, relative to paying Senator Dietrich $2,500 for the position of postmaster, he reporting that the Senator had demanded that amount.

SMOOT

Case Adjourns For Two Weeks.

THE MORMON SYSTEM ON TRIAL.

Control of Political Action by Apostles Indicated by the Testimony Introduced at Hearing.

Washington, March 11.—A recess in the Reed Smoot case will be taken today. It will last two weeks. Some witnesses who are wanted are ill and others cannot be found.

Washington, March 11.—"If the authorities of the Mormon church control the election of its members in temporal affairs, then we have in this country an ecclesiastical hierarchy more powerful than the government of the United States."

These words of Senator Overman, spoken in the Smoot investigation case, came home with startling force to every one who listened to the testimony given before the senate committee on privileges and elections, conducting the Smoot inquiry.

It was distinctly charged and weighty evidence was introduced to prove that authorities of the Mormon church not only seek to dominate, but actually to control the political action of their religious followers.

The sensation of the day came in the afternoon, when E. B. Critchlow, a native of Mississippi, a graduate of Princeton university and of Columbia Law school, for twenty years an attorney-at-law in Salt Lake City, for two terms an assistant United States district attorney there, and a life-long Republican, testified regarding the political influence directly, aggressively and offensively exercised by the president and the apostles of Mormonism.

He said that Mormons had no politics, in the common acceptance of the term; that though ostensibly dividing into political parties, they were really a unit for everything that the president and the apostles advocated; that no matter what might be their political opinions, they were with few exceptions either cajoled or intimidated into voting as the president and the apostles dictated, and that for a vote

JEW

Are Again Attacked at Kishineff

MANY MEN AND WOMEN ARE BADLY BEATEN.

Stores and Dwelling Houses are Sacked.

BIG MOB PARADED THE STREETS.

After Cheering for the Czar, Marched on the Jewish Quarter and Began Assault.

London, March 11.—The Jewish Morning World this morning declares that news received from Kishineff via Bukovina shows that fresh outrages against the Jews have taken place there. A mob paraded the streets headed by notorious anti-Semites, and after cheering for the Czar, marched on the Jewish quarter. The inhabitants of the Ghetto were driven in doors and the mob then began throwing stones through the windows. As the police failed to make their appearance, the rioters became bolder and finally started sacking the stores and dwelling houses. Many men and women were beaten, and it is believed that several were so badly injured they may die.

PART OF TROOPS ORDERED FROM SPRINGFIELD.

PROSECUTOR TO INVESTIGATE
THE RIOTING

Before Special Grand Jury Next Week
—No Indictments Expected—All Quiet at Springfield'd.

Columbus, O., March 11.—(Bulletin.)—Governor Herrick ordered seven companies from Springfield today. Ten companies of militia are left to guard the town.

Springfield, O., March 11.—Prosecutor McGrew announced this morning that he would open a special grand jury investigation Monday morning with vigor, but no one believes that there will be any indictments for either Monday or Tuesday night's work. Mayor Bowls informed Governor Herrick this morning that everything was quiet and that the situation remained under complete control of the authorities.

The race disturbances which have terrorized the town for the last three days, as the result of the murder of Patrolman Collins and the subsequent lynching of the negro Dixon, who shot Collins, are held well in check by the militia.

There are unmistakable signs that there is an ugly feeling on the part of the men and the boys who have composed the mobs of the last three days and the authorities realize that at the least provocation trouble might break out again.

The burning of a portion of the levee has only partially satisfied the mob, which was thwarted in the militia in its attempt to burn "Flicker's Nest," a row of buildings formerly occupied by about fifty families, but now completely deserted.

Columbus, March 11.—No matter what action the grand jury takes at Springfield, Governor Herrick has decided that the case shall bring the Springfield riot to justice. Attorney General Ellis will take the matter up at once. Deputies will ferret out the guilty parties. Governor Herrick has done this to make sure that local sentiment shall not smother justice.

THE HANNA MEN WHO ARE OUSTED BY MR. FORAKER.

WILL BE TAKEN CARE OF BY STATE ADMINISTRATION.

Heads of Foraker Men Holding Office
in This State Will Have to Come Off.

Columbus, O., March 11.—Every Hanna man who shall lose his federal position through the efforts of Senator Foraker, aided by President Roosevelt, to capture the organization from the Dick Herrick-Cox combine, will be taken care of by the state administration. Your correspondent is authorized to make this statement. There are Foraker men holding over from the Bushnell administration and then there is a lot of so-called "dead timber" in the public service. These two elements are to be ousted to make room for those sacrificed on the altar of their loyalty to Senator Hanna and to those who led after him.

BANDIT

Case Went to the Jury This Afternoon.

VERDICT EXPECTED BEFORE
THIS EVENING.

Trial Has Been on Since the Sixth of January.

FORMATION OF MURDER BUREAU

Will Be the Outcome of the Trial, Declares Assistant State's Attorney Olson Today.

Chicago, March 11.—The case of Harvey Van Dine, whose family formerly lived at Newark, Ohio, and the other car barn bandits, which has been on trial since January 6, closed at 12:20 o'clock this afternoon, when the case went to the jury.

Taking as an illustration the completeness of the evidence against the car barn bandits, Assistant State's Attorney Olson declares that the formation of a "murder bureau" will be the outcome of the trial. The state's case was made complete he said and the defendants prevented from perfecting any sham defense, because the prosecuting officials got to work on the case within a few hours after the arrest of the men.

Olson said that his prediction was based on plans already under way by which the state's attorney and the police are to organize a sort of "flying squadron" to look after murder cases.

Under the plan the work of catching the murderers will still be a strictly police business but the work of collecting the evidence will be done under the direction of the state attorney, who will have an assignment of picked detectives at his command for that purpose.

The case against VanDine, Neidermeyer and Marx was given to the jury this afternoon at 12:20 o'clock. It is expected that by night a verdict will have been reached, closing a trial which has been in progress since January 6, one of the longest murder trials in the history of Illinois.

It was in the VanDine case that Dennis Spooner, the Newark shoemaker, came to Chicago to testify. Mr. Spooner was placed on the stand by the state to offset the evidence offered by VanDine's mother, whose testimony tended to show that Van Dine through heredity is not responsible.

NO SPRING ELECTION

Republican Legislators Pass the Chapman Bill

Sixteen Members Refused to Be Bound by Party Caucus.

Brannock Local Option Bill Not Reported Yet-- Houck School Bill--Canal Measure is Yet to Come up--New Election Bill Will be Ready To Report Within Two Weeks.

Columbus, O., March 11.—After an exhaustive debate for hours the House of Representatives late Thursday afternoon passed without amendment the Chapman bill consolidating municipal elections with state and national elections. It now awaits the signature of Governor Herrick to become a law. This will be attached as soon as the clerks engross the bill.

Sixteen Republicans refused to be bound by the caucus decree and two more, who were opposed to it, absented themselves from the session. Every Democrat save one, who was called away, voted against the measure.

The passage of the bill means that there will be no election in this state until next November. The municipal officers then chosen will take hold on the first Monday in the following January. All appointive officers, such as members of boards, have their terms extended until the second Monday in January.

In Cincinnati, where a Superior Court Judge was to have been elected to succeed Rufus B. Smith, it is provided that a successor shall be appointed by Governor Herrick, to serve until next January. Wherever Justices of the Peace and township officers go out this spring the Trustees appoint their successors. All school officers are to be elected in November, so that the present form of government will continue in every city until next January.

The Brannock local option bill, as amended was not reported to the House because of the adjournment after passing the Chapman bill. With it will be presented a minority report signed by Wayne of Cincinnati; Reich of Cleveland, and Steward of Fairfield, the latter a Democrat.

In this report the block feature is objected to and a provision is inserted holding that a district shall not be created which contains a street or square in which 10 per cent or more of the frontage on either side of the street or square is devoted in whole or part to commercial purposes, saloons excepted. The majority applies this provision to blocks and makes the percentage 50. It is expected that both reports will be presented in the morning. The brewers of the state assume the following position, according to Secretary J. A. Miller, of their organization:

"It is untrue that the liquor interests are satisfied with the compromise proposition recommended by the majority of the Temperance committee on resident local option. We consider it more vicious than the Brannock ward local option bill. The brewers, retailers, wholesalers and distillers will not stand in the way of the people on a proposition that will secure exclusively resident sections relief from the saloon if they desire it, but they are most emphatically opposed to any proposition that will take their business out of any square or block in which any other business, excepting the saloon and drugstore, is conducted."

The vote resulted 70 to 37, the bill getting 14 more than necessary to pass it. The Republicans who voted with the Democrats were:

Braun of Franklin, Dowds of Knox, Eagleson of Guernsey, Hensel of Lorain, Stuckey of Van Wert, Wazner of Tuscawawas, Watkins of Licking, Whitney of Franklin, Woodburn of Union, and Jones of Delaware.

The Chapman bill was then launched by Speaker Pro Tem. Johnston of Galia.

The vote resulted 70 to 37, the bill getting 14 more than necessary to pass it. The Republicans who voted with the Democrats were:

Aiken of Logan, Eshleman of Ashtabula, Braun of Franklin, Bright of Logan, Cockley of Richland, Crist of Columbiana, Dowds of Knox, Eagleson of Guernsey, Fisher of Medina, Hensel of Preble, Jones of Delaware, Lorch of Lorain, Stuckey of Van Wert, Whitney of Franklin, and Woodburn of Union, 14 in all.

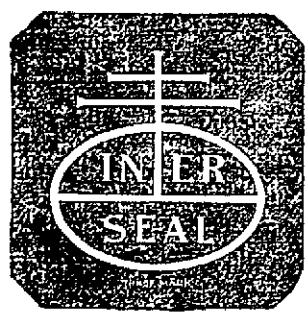

Wazner of Tuscawawas, and Watkins of Licking, and Guthrie of Adams were not present.

The news was carried to Governor Herrick and Senator Dick, in the Executive Chambers, and they at once felt relieved, so they said. The Governor said that if the bill came to him today from the Senate that he

Colonel Lisenby's Romance

By ANGUS
BLANTYRE

Copyright, 1903, by T. C. McClure

"An old man, Miss Edith, who begins to feel his age," said the colonel. "But you are not old, Colonel Lisenby. I am sure that few of the young men of today hold themselves as erect as you do, and I am quite sure that I have met few of them who have that graceful, deferential manner of yours in the presence of women. I think you are wrong to say that all romance must be dead for you," said the girl laughingly.

They were sitting on the piazza of a country house on the Hudson. From open windows streamed lights and the buzz of conversation, which showed that the guests were enjoying themselves after the fashion of guests in country houses. Before them and beneath them lay the moonlit expanse of the Hudson, and on the other side they could make out the bold line of the precipitous shore.

Tall, slender and graceful, the youth of the girl's twenty years showed in sharp contrast to the fifty odd years of the handsome, soldierly looking man who stood at her side.

"When you were younger, Miss Edith," said the colonel, "you used to be very fond of having me tell you stories, and I think I will tell you one now if you are sure it will not bore you."

"Please do, colonel. I used to think that there was no one who could tell such delightful stories beginning, 'Once upon a time.'"

"This story begins in the same way, Miss Edith. 'Once upon a time' nearly forty years ago a young man was very much in love with a very beautiful woman. The two lived in a little southern village on the Mississippi river and had been playmates through childhood. It was an understood thing between the families of the two that the boy and girl should be married when they were grown.

"One day a foolish little quarrel came up between the two young people, and it was not made up as soon as it should have been. Perhaps the

"YOU DO ME AN INJUSTICE," SAID THE COLONEL. "The girl was looking with tear dimmed eyes across the river to where the lights of West Point could be seen on top of the Palisades."

"The man's glance followed hers. Neither spoke for a moment, and then, with an effort which he hoped was not visible to the girl, the man said: 'So you are engaged to Jack Carter? I thought I was too old a friend not to have been told of this before.'"

"I meant to have told you this evening," said the girl. "Jack says you were so good about getting him appointed to the academy that we have both felt grateful to you. But we neither of us thought that you would be at all interested in a romance."

"You do me an injustice," said the colonel, with a little dry laugh. "I am always interested in romance—for instance, the one which I have been just telling you. I know the man and have taken a great deal of interest in the case. I shall advise him not to propose to the girl. But you must permit me to tell you that I wish you all happiness and that I consider Jack a very lucky fellow."

"They are beginning to dance, colonel. Won't you come in with me?"

"Thanks. I fancy my dancing days are over. I think I will stay here and smoke a cigar."

The girl stepped in through one of the open windows, and the man lit a cigar.

Perhaps it was the moonlight on the water, perhaps it was the old waltz tune which floated out of the windows of the house, perhaps the old memories were brought up so keenly by the story he had told the girl on the piazza. Whatever the cause, the effect was to carry the mind of the man back to another time and another scene.

The Hudson became another river, the Palisades on the farther side became a low, wooded shore. The breeze which came from the river seemed heavy with scent of magnolia. The man who paced slowly up and down the piazza was young again.

At his side there seemed to walk a woman as beautiful and as young as the girl who had just left him. But the beauty of this woman was of the south, and her dress was of the fashion of forty years ago. The measure of forgetfulness which time had granted the man slipped away, and the old keen heartache woke once again to poignant life.

And the man walking with memories and ghosts in the pure, calm moonlight thanked God that the heartache was alive once more.

died. I do not believe the man will ever forget her if he loved her as much as you say. I know that if I were to die I would want Jack to love me always, as the man you have told me of loved the woman, and not to think of another woman."

The Causes of Cynicism.

Cynicism is never a native quality of the mind. It always has its birth in some unhappy experience. The young man finds that the girl who has gathered up for him all the harmony and melody of earth rings hollow at the test, and he drops his lyrical language and becomes cynical of women. The citizen of Boston has naturally grown cynical of newspapers. The candidate for public office who has been definitely retired to private life by being "knifed" at the polls distrusts party politics. A man publishes a novel and therefore is cynical of the publishers of novels. Yet these misfortunes have their salutary aspect. The disappointed lover, generalizing bitterly upon the sex, is not always implacable. A cooler judgment tempers and restores his passion, gives it another object and so guides him to a safer if less gusty and emotional love. The citizen of Boston, the betrayed candidate, the blighted young novelist, all have for their condition, even though they know it not, a valuable compensation, for the very event that has brought them to this pass of reasonable cynicism has stirred their indignation—yes, in spite of their seeming inertness, indignation is now smoldering.—Arthur Stanwood Pler in Atlantic.

Her Cigars.

"My dear," said he the day after their wedding anniversary. "I'll just take those cigars to the office. It's customary, you know, to have a box handy in one's office."

"That morning he sent the box of Extras down to his friend Jones, with his compliments, and he chuckled at the joke he was playing on Jones."

When he met Jones in the elevator he was persuaded to have one of his own cigars, which Jones said were "all right." He accepted one and, to his dismay, found they were "all right."

That evening when he arrived at home he said to his wife: "My dear, I smoked one of those cigars you gave me and liked it very much. How did you happen to pick out such good ones?"

"Well, I'll tell you. You made such a fuss about your birthday box that I got the young man next door to buy this box for me."

"Oh-h-h!" said the dear husband. And he muttered to himself, "Just like a woman, bless her—always goes contrary to expectations!"—Buffalo Times.

English Kissing Customs.

At Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, at periodic intervals the mayor and corporation assert their rights over the shores of their native river by proceeding in state to various points, where they proclaim their authority. Perhaps as an inducement for the mayor to undertake this particular duty, on landing on the green he is permitted by ancient custom to kiss the prettiest girl present, conferring upon her a sovereign as compensation. At Bourne-mouth, where the kiss mayoral is also conferred, it is an ancient and loving custom for the retiring mayor to give his successor an osculatory salute.

"That Worn-Out Feeling Has Gone No More Rheumatism---No More Chills."

The Best Known Man In Richmond Adds His Voice to Ever-Swelling
Chorus of Praise for the Celebrated Nerve Vitalizer and Tonic.

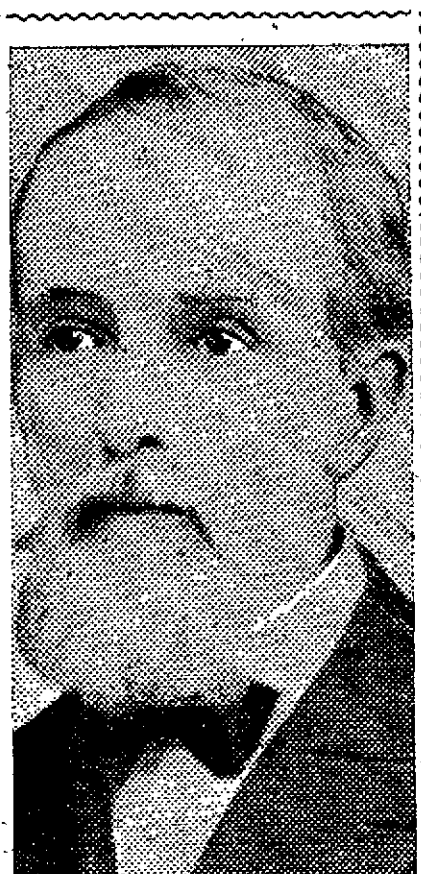

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

From L. H. Andrews of Richmond, Virginia, one of the Fathers of the city, a prominent business man, a leader of public spirit, widely known and highly respected—comes this THIRD letter, telling how Paine's Celery Compound—the discovery of Dartmouth's great physician—has given him when he turned to it for new vitality, new health and for safety against all sickness.

Mr. Andrews was cured of:
Exhaustion,
Stomach and Bowel Trouble,
Weak Appetite,
Chills,
Rheumatism,
Sleeplessness,
"Worn Out" Feeling.

Letter No. 3.
"Some years ago, as you know, I used Paine's Celery Compound with highly gratifying results. Business cares and worry had really 'knocked me out.' Stomach and bowels in bad condition—with chills and severe spells of rheumatism—had made life a burden to me.

"For eight or nine months I suffered this way and was under treatment by two good physicians, but they failed to relieve me permanently.

MR. L. H. ANDREWS—RICHMOND.

"On the advice of a friend I tried Paine's Celery Compound. My appetite returned, the chills ceased. I could sleep well, and that 'worn out' feeling disappeared entirely.

"My friends noticed the rapid improvement and were much surprised, for (as I have since learned) they thought my days were numbered.

"Since then, whenever that old tired feeling came on I would take another bottle or two, always with the same happy result. I enjoy splendid health.

"I have never lost an opportunity to speak a good word for the remedy that proved such a panacea. Simply as a cure for debility and insomnia—to say nothing of other troubles—it will remove—I consider that Paine's Celery Compound is nothing short of a blessing.

"I will take pleasure in replying to any inquiries if a stamp is enclosed. Very truly yours, L. H. ANDREWS, 295 N. 23d St., Richmond, Va., Dec. 16.

Learn how much better you can feel—Go to your Druggist Today—Get one bottle—Feel just ONCE that abundant new nerve force made by Paine's Celery Compound—You will NEVER AGAIN be contented with low spirits and poor health.

There are renewed assurances that peace will be maintained in the Balkans. Nevertheless Bulgaria is mobilizing her troops and Turkey is diligently purchasing all the arms and munition she can get credit for, two facts that would indicate that the parties most immediately concerned do not take any too great stock in their refraining from hostilities.

The much-heralded harmony in Republican-circles which was to follow the election of Mr. Dick to the senatorship has received a rude jolt by Senator Foraker securing the appointment of some of his friends as postmasters in places where there had been a contest between them and friends of the late Senator Hanna. Neither Senator Dick nor his close friends are feeling cheerful about Foraker's victory.

The refusal of Turkey to grant the request of Russia that the latter's Black sea fleet be permitted to pass through the Dardanelles unless the czar's government accede to impossible conditions was no doubt due to the prompting of Great Britain. The sultan remembers that the latter's fleet was potent enough to save Constantinople from the Muscovites a quarter of a century ago, and with its backing he doubtless feels that he is very safe in standing off the Russian request.

Russia has notified the British government that it proposes to treat coal as contraband of war as well as breadstuffs, if they are sent at the enemy's cost or order. Japan will probably counter with a similar order if it has not already been put forth. Russia is in much greater need of coal or any kind of fuel in its operations in the North Pacific than would appear to be the case with Japan, which has coal mines of her own in abundance. The interdiction on coal is of great importance to Great Britain, which exports coal largely, while American interests are involved in declaring foodstuffs contraband of war, in which our foreign trade and demand is immense.

President Harper.

The Chicago interest in the illness and the convalescence of Dr. W. R. Harper, of the University of Chicago, is of the genuine kind. It could not well be otherwise, for Dr. Harper has pre-eminently the Chicago spirit, and the city could not well ignore him without casting a slight on the enterprise and solidity that constitute its own greatness. Dr. Harper is an Ohio man, grew up and got his early education in eastern Ohio, was a teacher at Granville and then, after a course at Yale and abroad, went to Chicago to work out the gigantic plans of Rockefeller. How well he has done it everybody knows. Everybody appreciates it, but especially Chicago, which has, owing to Mr. Rockefeller's munificence and Dr. Harper's good generalship, been provided with a university which is worthy of the great city of which it is a part. There is a good deal of good-natured rivalry at Dr. Harper, when he is bustling about in search of the millions, but underneath it all is a sterling admiration and affection for the man and the scholar, which his illness has served to develop and put into words for him to read and be cheered and encouraged in his great work. COMMENDS ITS WORK

Ohio Senate Compliments the State Board of Agriculture.

ADOPTS COMMITTEE'S REPORT

Affairs of the Department Critically Examined and Found to Have Been Conducted in a Faultless Manner—Report in Full.

Columbus, O.—(Special.)—After a careful investigation on the part of a special committee, the Ohio senate has adopted a resolution which most highly commends the State Board of Agriculture for the work it has been doing and the manner in which the affairs of the department are conducted.

The agricultural department was given more encouragement by this action than it has been accorded since its inception away back in 1846.

Some days ago Senator Austin of Toledo presented a resolution asking that the reports of the agricultural department be examined and that the state's liability on bond issues be determined. This grew out of some small objection to the state paying a bonded indebtedness for which it was liable.

Lieutenant Governor Harding appointed a committee consisting of Senators Austin, Dunlap, Harrison, Rickerts and Crites to make the examination, and after careful work a highly complimentary report was presented and adopted by that body. The report, which speaks for itself, is as follows:

Your committee appointed to investigate conditions relative to the State Board of Agriculture felt it an incumbent duty to first inform itself concerning the work of this board, and the agricultural department under its management, together with the authority and direction for the work, and afterwards the source or means and the application of the same for the expense of the work.

In examining into the history of the board and its work, we find that from 1846 to 1880, its work consisted of the preparation and publication of an annual report, containing agricultural statistics reproduced from other sources; abstracts of reports from county agricultural societies, addresses and lectures on agricultural topics, and the proceedings of the annual agricultural convention, held, agreeable to the statutes of the state, for deliberation as to the wants and prospects of agriculture.

The board conducted during these years general correspondence regarding the agricultural affairs of the state, but the greatest work in those years was the preparation for and the holding of the annual state fairs.

The permanent office force of the board prior to 1880 consisted of a secretary and clerk. The appropriations made by the state for the expense of the office, or agricultural department, was usually about $4,000. This covered all expenses of salaries, handling of reports, postage, express, telegraph and other contingent expenses. No part of the annual appropriation was expended for state fair expense. It seems to have been the policy of the board, and we believe still continues to be, to request only such appropriations as are actually required for the work to be done.

The State Fair and Industrial Exposition, now authorized by section 3693 of the revised statutes, so far as the expense of operation is concerned, prior to 1888 it was without a permanent place of holding. In that year the State Board of Agriculture had of surplus State Fair earnings the sum of $17,252, with which it began the purchase of real estate as a State Fair grounds.

The surplus of subsequent fairs was also devoted to this purpose, when in 1886 the first State Fair was held on part of the grounds now occupied.

Having secured grounds with its own earnings, the State Board of Agriculture, before holding the first fair on this acquired property, requested the General Assembly to permanently protect it to the state, and forbid encumbrance in any manner without the consent of the state, and such a law was enacted May 4, 1888. Since the original purchase of the grounds, and were secured, payment being made from the proceeds of bonds authorized by the General Assembly for fair ground improvements.

It is shown by the records of the board that some years the receipts of the fair did not cover expenses, and the board was compelled to borrow money for payment of premiums and expenses, but the borrowed money has always been paid from the earnings of succeeding fairs, and never by any appropriations from the state. It is quite clearly shown that all surplus earnings of the annual fairs have gone into betterments of grounds, buildings and petterments.

We find that the state has aided in the erection of buildings and the improvement of these grounds by authorizing the issue of bonds as follows: By act May 18, 1885, $80,000; by act of April 12, 1889, $40,000; by act of March 23, 1890, $120,000; total, $280,000.

We find that the total cost of the State Fair grounds, with buildings and improvements, has been $357,663.

Since the original purchase of grounds by the State Board of Agriculture there has been a very great rise in real estate values in the immediate vicinity of the grounds. The fair grounds now comprise 115 acres. The increase in their value is placed at $288,570, making the total value of fair grounds and improvements at this time $646,133, an excess of $288,570 over and above the amount of bonds authorized by acts of the General Assembly.

We find that of the $280,000 bonds referred to $120,000 have already been paid to the state, leaving $160,000 still to be paid, and which, according to the conditions of the bonds, are payable $20,000 each year until paid.

The purchase of grounds as a permanent home for the Ohio Fair has proved to be a very wise transaction from a money point of view, and as a better means of promoting the agricultural and manufacturing interests of the state has placed Ohio in front line with other progressive states.

At the close of the last calendar year, Dec. 31, 1902, it was found that in the fund from which State Fair and other miscellaneous expenses are paid there was a balance of $13,941, but since that date much of this balance has been expended for the expenses of farmers' institutes, fertilizer inspection and other work not provided for by state appropriations, and the balance still remaining will be required for repairs and maintenance of fair grounds and buildings until another fair.

According to the work of the board through the department of agriculture, we find that in 1846 the general scope of agricultural work was enlarged, and a system of work by divisions was inaugurated.

The first new division to be established was that of monthly crop and live stock reporting. The legislature, by increasing the appropriations to the board, made provision to sustain this work, and afterwards added to it by an act of the General Assembly, requiring county auditors to return, direct to the Secretary of Agriculture, the agricultural statistics gathered each year by the assessors.

This crop and live stock reporting work has grown from year to year. It involves a corps of correspondents from the several townships of the state, numbering about 1,500 persons, and an immense clerical force in the department.

The next important division established by the board was that of county farmers' institutes. This institute work grew so rapidly in public favor, and the demand for them became so great in the several counties of the state, that the General Assembly, by its act of April 26, 1890, made it a duty of the State Board of Agriculture to continue the work, and made special provisions therefor. We find that the county institutes held under the auspices of the State Board of Agriculture increased from about 40 to the demand is not fully met.

By act of the General Assembly, March 16, 1881, provision was made that required the secretary of the State Board of Agriculture to make an inspection and analysis of all the commercial fertilizers sold or offered for sale in Ohio. This division of the service has entailed a great amount of careful work and an increase of office force.

By act of the General Assembly, May 16, 1902, the inspection of nurseries and orchards was made a duty of the board, and such a division was, in accordance with that act, placed in immediate operation. It entailed additional help and additional expense.

As the work of the State Board of Agriculture increased, and new divisions were established, agreeable to law, in the department of agriculture, we find that the working force and the expense gradually increased from time to time. State appropriations were made to meet the requirements as they existed. The annual appropriation has been increased from $4,800 in 1884, to $7,500 in 1890; to $9,000 in 1899; to $15,000 in 1898, and to $16,000 in 1903, besides an additional $15,000 for the two years 1902 and 1903, made specially for the expense of nursery and orchard inspection.

The paid force required to conduct the work, as it has been developed and added to by law, increased from two to three persons at the period first referred to in this report to 19 persons in 1903, not including 30 institute lecturers employed during the institute seasons.

The books of the board show that the appropriations annually made by the state have been expended wholly for the work of the department. No part of the state appropriations have been applied to State Fair expense. The books and accounts of that institution are kept entirely separate from the appropriation books and accounts.

Furthermore, your committee finds upon the declaration of the Attorney General that the obligation of the state to pay the above bond issue is legal and binding, and that the state is bound in good faith by special recital in the bonds to pay the same.

Furthermore, your committee recommends the passage of the bill authorizing the payment of $40,000 of bonds and $15,000 of interest, for the reason that the state is obligated to pay these bonds and interest, which are now due, and for which coupons are already being presented for payment.

Your committee found a correct and very comprehensive system of accounts for all the financial transactions of the board, and we believe the board has complied fully with all the requirements of the various laws.

Itemized accounts of the receipts and disbursements of the board are found in the annual report of the board made to the General Assembly, and in the reports of the Auditor of State.

Furthermore, your committee finds that the title of the lands and property held by the State Board of Agriculture is vested in said board and since the same has been in part sold for one of the grounds belonging to the state, your committee recommends that this title be transferred from the board, where it now exists, to the state. The State Board of Agriculture has agreed to call a meeting of said board and that claim the title of said grounds, together with all buildings and appurtenances, situated in Franklin county, and belonging to said board, to the state of Ohio within ten days.

The system of vouchers, expense accounts and books have been some over, as far as the time and opportunity would permit, and in each and every instance we find the method of disbursing funds to be most accurate and business like, and the checks placed upon each and every one of the 29 employees as to the use of expense money and funds otherwise used were very creditable. We find that all moneys appropriated directly by the state were paid out by vouchers through the State Auditor, and that all moneys checked through the bank fund were none other than those essential to the business-like management of an institution of the magnitude of the State Fair.

After due deliberation, your committee begs to say that the entire management of the State Board of Agriculture as indicated by its system of bookkeeping and detail work in the office, reflects great credit upon the secretary and upon the board.

The members of the State Board of Agriculture are: J. L. Carpenter, Meigs county, president; Wm. Miller, Ottawa county, vice president; T. L. Calvert, Clark county, treasurer; T. E. Cromley, Pickaway county; C. H. Ganson, Champaign county; A. P. Sandles, Putnam county; R. O. Hinsdale, Medina county; Samuel Taylor, Franklin county; E. L. Lybarger, Coshocton county; L. P. Bailey, Belmont county.

The executive officers of the department are: W. W. Miller, secretary, and J. W. Fleming, assistant secretary.

Senator Hoar's Story.

Senator Hoar told an incident of his legal practice in connection with his remarks about the dangerous condition of the old government printing office.

"I am reminded," said he, "of something that happened in the supreme court of our state some years ago. They held court at Northampton and went over to Mount Holyoke, where there is an elevator which takes travelers up the side of a steep rock a hundred or two hundred feet to avoid the difficulty of climbing.

"The judges, as judges are apt to be, were, nearly all of them, rather complacent men. Six or seven got into the elevator at once. They saw that the rope that held the car in which they went was very much frayed, and they asked the manager if he did not think it was a little unsafe.

"Yes, the manager said, 'it is wholly unsafe and likely to break every minute, but we are going to have a new one next Monday.'"

MOTHERS OF NEWARK,

ARE YOUR CHILDREN THIN, PUNY AND AILING?

Vinol Will Make Them Strong, Robust and Rosy or We Return Your Money.

Is there a mother in Newark who will ignore such a generous offer as this? You risk not one cent. We pay for all the Vinol your child takes if it does not give satisfactory results.

There are plenty of children all around us who are thin, puny, ailing and tired all the time. Don't want to do this, and don't want to do that. Do not blame the children; they have no strength, no blood, no vitality; rapid growth takes all their strength.

Vinol is just what your child needs. It is a delicious cod liver oil preparation, and children love it. It creates strength, makes rich, red blood and vitality as nothing else can, and after a severe sickness there is nothing that will build your child up like Vinol.

The following letter is only one which we have received from hundreds of mothers in regard to what Vinol has done for children.

Mrs. E. M. Oswalt, of Mansfield, Ohio, writes: "My little daughter became so poorly that I was obliged to take her from school. She was thin, no appetite, tired all the time and weak. We had tried several medicines without benefit, and I noticed your recommendation of Vinol and decided to try it. She commenced to gain at once, and, after taking three bottles, she is as well as ever; she has gained in flesh, rosy cheeks and good appetite and is going to school every day."

We want to say to every mother in Newark that Vinol will build your children up into strong, robust, healthy children. We have never sold anything equal to it in our store for this purpose, and we will return your money if it fails. Frank D. Hall, Drug-gist.

Evolution OF THE Army of Japan

AN English military authority recently witnessed the debarkation of Japanese troops at Chemulpo. It is generally accepted that the transportation of troops and supplies furnishes the supreme test of a nation's military efficiency. A great many armies poorly transported have fought well, but there is no case on record of a well transported army having fought poorly. The greatest military geniuses have grappled with this problem of transportation, and in proportion as they have solved it they have prevailed against their foes. It would naturally be assumed that the older nations would have quartermaster arrangements which are nearly perfect, but the facts do not bear out this assumption. When the United States went to war with Spain the problem of getting a handful of men to Cuba was found to be a most serious one. England found her resources, which on the water are remarkably strong, taxed to the utmost in her trouble with the Boers. And so it has been in every recent war.

But along comes the Jap, "a beginner in civilization," to demonstrate to western nations that the matter of getting troops from one place to another, even by water, where every ship must be convoyed, is not such a difficult task after all. The English military authority, already quoted declares that there is no European nation which could disembark many thousands of men as rapidly and with as little confusion as was done by the Japanese at Chemulpo. This statement, coming as it does from one who is competent to express an opinion, is really startling at first blush, especially since it is generally assumed that Japan's beginning as a serious military factor occurred only after the Chino-Japanese war, at the time of the rape of Port Arthur by Russia. While it is true that Japan's full awakening to the possibilities of a great navy may be said to date from the sea battle with the Chinese at the mouth of the Yalu river, more southerly islands were not then so overcrowded as they are now, and the population of Sakhalin was very small. Russia saw this strip of land standing like a bar before her Siberian possessions and determined to possess it. This she did in her usual manner—by moving in. Naturally Japan protested, and Russia, even with her abnormal land grabbing propensities, had not the face to dispute the claim. She accordingly suggested that a joint occupation be tried, Japan being given the southern half. Of course this did not work—joint occupations never do—and Russia knew that in advance. The joint occupation in this case really consisted of Russia and—Russia. Japan protested, and Russia offered to give her a few of the Kurile rocks if she would get out altogether. Japan declined, and the joint occupation force went on a little longer. Then the limit was reached. Japan protested again, whereupon magnanimous Russia offered to give her the entire bleak Kurile group in exchange for her claim to Sakhalin, which Russia has since used as a penal colony. Japan was furious, but she realized that if she did not take the Kuriles and get out she would get nothing and get out at the same time, so she accepted.

What then seemed a calamity for the island empire, which needed Sakhalin's sparsely settled miles as an outlet for her rapidly increasing surplus population, was really a blessing in disguise, for it caused the Japs to realize that if they were to preserve their national existence they must be prepared to support it by force of arms, which arms would almost certainly be used first against Russia. That did not prove to be quite the case, for China was the first nation to get a taste of the Japanese quality in fighting, but Russia was second on the list, and if there is anything certain, in case Russia should be the loser in the present struggle, it is that Japan will claim Sakhalin as a matter of sentiment and the Liautong peninsula as a kingdom, so that Japan shortly became one vast training school.

A very complete plan of fortifications was adopted. The work along this line has not been entirely finished, but all the more important points are well protected, especially against attack from sea.

It was in 1875 that compulsory military service in the army and navy was adopted. Since that time every male subject of the mikado between the ages of seventeen and forty is liable to active duty. The army is made up of four divisions, and the conscript is slated for a term of service in each—three years in the active army, four years in the reserves, five years in the landwehr and eight years in the landstrum. In times of peace, however, only a small number of those eligible are admitted to the active army, choice being made by lot. In the beginning the main stress was laid on the artillery and infantry arms of the service. The cavalry, which is Russia's strongest point, is Japan's weakest.

An Eventful Period.

The first period of Japan's military evolution extended from the beginning of the Satsuma rebellion in 1868 to the opening of the Chino-Japanese war in 1894. This struggle served not only to open the eyes of the world to the fact that a new military power had entered the field, but came like a revelation to the Japs themselves. The adoption of western methods had not been in vain. The careful and scientific drill of the men in both the army and navy, the marksmanship practice of the gunners in the artillery and on the ships, the years of study given to every military system on earth, the schooling imparted to Japanese officers and men by army experts from Europe and America—all these things had borne fruit. The island kingdom had not only overcome her hereditary and overgrown neighbor on both land and sea, but she had done it in a manner that reflected glory upon her arms. Her ambition to be the leader of the orient was given a fresh spur.

Russia's grab of the Liautong peninsula and Manchuria furnished a direction for the newly awakened military enthusiasm of Japan. Here began the second stage of the evolution. Efforts toward creating a great army and navy were redoubled. The army was increased and more rigidly drilled than before. So rapidly and thoroughly was this process carried forward that at the time of the Boxer outbreak in 1900 the military establishment of the island empire had almost doubled.

NEWARK-ZANESVILLE LINE

Will be in Operation Within a Few Days--Trial Trip Made Thursday by Officials--Jewett Car Company Turns Over Four New Motors.

The first trip over the Columbus, Newark and Zanesville interurban line from Newark to Zanesville, was made Thursday. The car carried a small party of officials of the road.

The car was one of the new Jewett Car Works 60-foot models that are to be used and from the first trip made it is thought a good schedule may be established between Newark and Zanesville.

The new sub-station at Spring Valley was completed on Wednesday and the power transmitted from here made the good rate of speed possible Thursday. The car also took to Zanesville a party of linemen who will construct the private telephone line from Zanesville to Newark.

The Jewett Car Company today turned over to General Manager J. R. Harrigan of the Columbus, Newark and Zanesville interurban road four new cars for use on this line in the very near future, when traffic will be opened up between this city and Zanesville.

The new cars are veritable triumphs of the car builders' skill and are the finest ever turned out by the Jewett Car company, which makes the best cars in the United States. They are 60 feet long, and will comfortably seat 60 people. The new cars are painted a bright and attractive color bordering on carmine, the lettering being in gold.

They are the finest equipment that that money can buy, each having four 75-horse power motors, giving a total of 300-horse power. They are constructed on the multiple unit system of control, type M which involves the latest and most approved principles of interurban car building.

The interior of the car presents some novelties in arrangements, all being built in accordance with the personal ideas of General Manager Harrigan. These new features commend themselves at once to the most casual observer. The smoker section has the seats arranged along and parallel with the side of the car instead of at right angles. There is no space behind the seats. Cuspidors are placed on the floor which does away with the unhealthful and filthy practice of expectorating back of the seats.

The cars are finished in mahogany with inlaid marble trimmings. The main section has seats upholstered in green cloth, while those in the smoking section are finished in raitan. The lamps are arranged in arches, and are fitted with frosted glass globes, which is to diffuse the light as well as add to the general decor.

The interior is also equipped with seats arranged according to Mr. Harrigan's idea, which is to commoditize every bit of space in the car.

The cars are equipped with the Peter Smith hot water system, and can always be kept warm and comfortable in the winter. They are motive trucks and have a locomotive type of pilot.

As the first of a four car car-

this morning, it attracted much favorable attention and comment.

General Manager Harrigan, A. M. Pease, superintendent of motive power of the C. B. L. & N., and N. & Z., F. L. Mowery, superintendent of the Newark City Lines, Wm. Schroeder of the Jewett Car Works, and several others came down with the car which was run into the car barns west of Eleventh street.

Mr. Harrigan said that it was his present intention to put the Zanesville line in operation by next week, if nothing occurred to cause delay.

A morning paper referring to the trial trip Thursday said that the car raced with a B. & O. train neck and neck for several miles though the B. & O. was going at a speed of 40 miles an hour. Mr. Harrigan says there was no race but that the trip was leisurely taken with frequent stops for inspection of the road.

THE RAILWAYS

PENSION STATEMENT MADE BY THE PENNSYLVANIA.

An All-Steel Coach—Mr. Boyd Honored—Oppose City Ownership of Wharves—Local Paragraphs.

The statement of the Pennsylvania for 1903 shows that the company paid $330,000,000 in pensions. The road has 2170 pensioners, of which number 1255 have reached 70 years of age. The average age of all pensioners is 72 years and six months. The oldest of the employees receiving a pension is 92 years of age.

An All-Steel Coach.

The Pan Handle has just completed an all-steel coach at its shops at Altoona, Pa., the first of the kind ever built for the road. No wood was used. It will be tested as to the practicability of such cars, and if this proves a success others will be built of the same class.

G. W. Boyd Honored.

George W. Boyd, general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania railroad, has received a letter from Baron Speck von Sternberg, German ambassador at Washington, conveying to him on the part of Emperor William of Germany the decoration of the Order of the Crown. The ambassador states that the emperor has been pleased to bestow upon Mr. Boyd this decoration in remembrance of the valuable services rendered Prince Henry of Prussia during his visit to the United States. The badge is a white enamel, held maltese cross with gold edge, having in the center the royal crown on a gold field.

It is admitted by officials of the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio railroads that all the big transportation companies who have terminals in Baltimore are opposing that city's plan for municipal ownership of wharves.

B. & O. Instructions.

President Oscar Murray, of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, has issued instructions to the effect that none but Baltimore and Ohio men are to be promoted on the road henceforth and that where new men are taken on, sons of near relatives of employees shall, where feasible, be given the preference.—Columbus Dispatch.

Rheumatism Is Not a Skin Disease.

Most people have an idea that rheumatism is contracted like a cold, that the damp, chilly air penetrates the muscles and joints and causes the terrible aches and pains, or that it is something like a skin disease to be rubbed away with liniment or drawn out with plasters, but Rheumatism originates in the blood and is caused by Urea, or Uric Acid, an irritating, corroding poison that settles in muscles, joints and nerves, producing inflammation and soreness and the sharp, cutting pains peculiar to this distressing disease.

Exposure to bad weather or sudden chilling of the body will hasten an attack of Rheumatism after the blood and system are in the right condition for it to develop, but have nothing to do with the real cause of Rheumatism, which are internal and not external. Liniments, plasters and rubbing will sometimes reduce the inflammation and swelling and ease the pain for a time, but fail to relieve permanently because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism because it attacks it in the blood, and the Uric Acid poison is neutralized, the sluggish circulation stimulated and quickened and soon the system is purified and cleansed, the aching muscles and joints are relieved of all irritating matter and a lasting cure of this most painful disease effected.

S. S. S. is a harmless vegetable remedy, unequalled as a blood purifier and an invigorating, pleasant tonic. Book on Rheumatism will be mailed free.

her determination to possess some day a powerful army antedated that by at least twenty years. What is in view of the present difficulty in the far east, even more significant is that it was Russia which first made the navy little Jap determine to become a great military power, decades before the Chino-Japanese war, with its resultant Port Arthur episode, was ever thought of.

Theft of Sakhalin.

It is just twenty-nine years ago that Japan ceded to Russia in exchange for the Kurile islands, a group of about twenty barren rocks, the valuable island of Sakhalin, with its 46,000 square miles and its valuable coal mines and timber forests. Then it was that she figuratively speaking, gave a gulp and determined some day to get even with Russia. At that time it would have been madness to attempt to fight her unscrupulous foe. The events leading up to this session of Sakhalin were characteristically Russian. The island geographically is a portion of the Japanese group. It lies just north of Yezo, from which it is separated by the narrow strait of Soya. Japan's matter of justice and naval and political expediency.

A Rapid Evolution.

The evolution of the Japanese army was rapid. The modernization of the military really began with the outbreak of the Satsuma rebellion or revolution in 1868, seven years before the cession of Sakhalin to Russia. This destructive war, in which several hundred thousand Japanese lost their lives, lasted until 1872, when the shogun was finally overthrown, his retainers killed or scattered to all parts of the kingdom and the mikado firmly established upon the throne. To make up for the destruction of the fighting bands of samurai under the daimios an army built on European and American lines was immediately raised. Japanese youths were sent abroad to study the military establishments of other lands. Trained officers from America, England, France and Germany were invited to visit the country and assist in training an army. These experts, with the returned students who had graduated from foreign institutions, started military academies throughout subsequent fighting about the Chinese capital was such as to still further awaken the admiration of the world. Prior to that time the little men had measured themselves only with the soldiers of China. Now they marched side by side with the soldiers of Europe and America. The Japs seemed to understand that much depended on the impression made. How favorable that impression was the reports sent back by newspaper correspondents and the soldiers of other nations amply testify. The praises of "the little beggars," as the Jap troops were called, were being sung from Berlin to San Francisco. They outnumbered the other troops, were the first over the breaches, fought fatigued with less complaint and maintained better discipline than almost any other soldiers in the field.

The small arms used by the Japanese were invented by one of their officers. They are fine weapons, and the manner in which the little brown men are using them against the Russian demonstrates that their military advancement since the Boxer campaign has been as rapid as during the years between 1865 and 1900.

At the Y. M. C. A. last night the Newark High school basket ball team easily defeated Otterbein freshman team in one of the most enjoyable games of the season. The team work on both sides was good, but it could easily be seen that the Westerville

Newark boys, were outclassed in quickness and ability to make goals.
Captain Lloyd played the best game
for Otterbein, while Pine was the "star" for Newark.

the Probate Judge instead of three,
which leaves the County Board of School Examiners the same as the Senator Shumaker of Cleveland, introduced a bill which provides for the appointment of two female school inspectors. The appointments are to be made by the State Inspector of Workshops and Factories, with the approval of the Governor.

Captain Humphrey, of Hardt's county, member of the House Committee of Elections, declares that the change that he was induced to shift from opposition to the "Columbus bill" to its support by a promise that the Richards resolution would be passed first is untrue. He was for the bill from the start and only insisted that the resolution should be passed beyond all peradventure of doubt. In this he is supported by his fellow members on the committee, even those of the opposition.

The canal bill will not be reported for some time. The committee intend to make a trip over the state investigating the canal question before making report. The committee will probably visit Newark.

to run counter to the expressed will of the ecclesiastical authorities was equivalent to courting ecclesiastical disciplining and ecclesiastical excommunication.

He stated that when the Utah legislature of 1896 was elected, a committee of Mormon apostles was appointed whose duty it was to examine and pass upon all bills introduced in the legislature and that no bill which was rejected by the committee could be enacted.

In reviewing the senatorial contest
between Rawlings and Thatcher, Mr.
Critchlow said that Thatcher, the Democratic candidate, was hounded by the ecclesiastical authorities, excommunicated and compelled to recant, and all because Thatcher had had the temerity to criticize the apostles and the president of the Mormon church for their "unwarranted interference in politics."

When the crisis came in the election
every Mormon but one, whom the church ordered to support Rawlings, voted as he was directed.

"And that one," asked Senator Beveridge, who is one of Mr. Smoot's ardent supporters in the committee,
"what did they do to him? Did they excommunicate him?"

"No, they did not," said Mr. Critch-low.

Senator Beveridge smiled complacently. Senator Hoar looked grave.

"Was that man's vote necessary to elect Rawlings?" asked Senator Hoar.

"No, they had a majority without him," said Mr. Critchlow.

The tables turned, Senator Hoar smiled complacently. Senator Beveridge tried to look grave.

Developments of the last few days indicate that the whole system of Mormonism, as well as the political status of Mr. Smoot, is on trial in the United States senate.

In the judgment of discriminating critics the Smoot investigation will,
before it closes, knock all other investigations out of sight and out of memory.

It will be little less than a moral,
social and political earthquake.

CONDENSED NEWS
New York, March 11.—Andrew Carnegie is to succeed Senator Hanna as president of the civic federation, if he can be persuaded to accept the responsibility.

Washington, Ind., March 11.—
Ruralists broke into the Elmore National bank this morning but were frightened away before they entered the safe.

Pittsburg, March 11.—Owing to a break in the machinery the city is suffering a severe water famine. Just enough water for fire protection in the business section is held in one of the reservoirs. Business is at a standstill.

Washington, March 11.—Senator
Taft of Texas is being unofficially boomed for the Democratic Presidential nomination by his congressional colleagues from the Lone Star state.
The boom is based on the possibility that New York will fail to agree on a candidate.

Conneaut, O., March 11.—The car-ferry Shenango, plying between this port and Rondeau, Ont., was set on fire by the explosion of oil this morning. She had been lying fast in the inside the breakwater all winter. Engineer Thomas Morrell thought fatally burned, escaped from the boat.
Fireman Chas. McCarter was killed.
The Shenango is a total loss. She cost $350,000.

Columbus, O., March 11.—No hope remains for the city boards of elections now that spring elections have been abolished. Secretary of State Laylin has about completed his new election bill, which virtually places
the deputy supervisors of elections in control. It will wipe out the city boards and will provide for bipartisan county boards to be appointed upon recommendation of committees of the two prevailing parties.

Circleville, O., March 11.—John D.
Miller and others have petitioned the board of county examiners to revoke
the certificate of Miss Ethel Stone, a teacher in the Tarrion school. They charge her with incompetency, lack of interest in her work and infraction of the rules of the school; that she kicked her pupils and flirted with a young man from one of the school
windows; that she made sport of religious service held in the village.
Miss Stone has retained counsel and will fight the case.

OBITUARY
MRS. ELIZABETH WILLIAMS.
The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Williams took place from her late home
in Newton township on Thursday afternoon at one o'clock and the interment was made in the Welsh Hills cemetery. The deceased was the grandmother of Mrs. Walter Scott and Mrs. W. H. Masey, of this city.

HOMER RECTOR.
Homer Rector, who formerly resided near Hanover, this county, died at the State Hospital for the Insane at Columbus on Thursday. The deceased was aged about twenty-five years and about two months ago was sent to the State Hospital. Previous to being sent to Columbus he was employed by a railway construction company at Gallion. The body was brought here Friday afternoon on the 12:25 train
and taken to the home of his cousin,
A. A. Rector, on Gay street. The funeral will be held on Saturday at 12:30
p. m., the funeral cortege leaving here
at 8:30 a. m.

LUKE HOBART.
Mr. Luke Hobart, one of the oldest and best known citizens of Granville,
died at the County infirmary on Thursday evening about six o'clock, after an illness of only one day. On Wednesday evening he was apparently in his usual health and ate a hearty supper.
Thursday morning he complained of not feeling well and was unable to swallow his food. He continued to grow worse, although he was able to be around until Thursday noon. It is thought that he sustained a stroke of paralysis. He was aged 75 years and leaves a wife and one son, who live in Newark. The funeral will take place at Granville on Friday morning at 10 o'clock and the interment will be made in Maple Grove cemetery.

MRS. JANE RIDER.
Miss Jane Swift was born in Ireland in 1814 of English parents, and when six years of age emigrated to this country, settling in New York state.
She later moved to Wayne county, O., living near Wooster until about 50 years ago when she came to Newark,
where she has lived ever since.

The Swift family were prominent locally before coming to America, the head of this family having the contract for furnishing the uniforms for the British army, all of them being hand sewed, as the sewing machine
had not at that time come into use.
When the family came to America it was at a time when a three months'
voyage across the Atlantic was considered good time.

In 1833 the subject of this sketch
was married to Christian Zimmerman, two children, John and Mary, being born of the union, the former having died about 17 years ago. Miss Mary is still living and was at the bedside of her mother when death came.

After the death of Christian Zimmerman the deceased was again married to Joseph Rider, who died about three years ago.

There are four children living of this marriage, all living in Newark. They are: Charles Rider, Mrs. Frances Rider Peck, Mrs. Clementine Roche
and Loeys Rider.

Mrs. Rider was a woman of superior mental attainments, and especially well equipped with good sound business judgment. She was of a generous, noble nature and there are many who will mourn a kind and helpful friend in the death of Mrs. Rider, who was always willing to hear the cry of distress and whose feet were quick to run to the succor and aid of the needy or unfortunate.

Wakeful Children.
For a long time the two year old child of Mr. P. L. McPherson, 59 N.
Tenth street, Harrisburg, Pa., would sleep but two or three hours in the early part of the night, which made it hard for the parents. Her mother concluded that the child had stomach trouble and gave her half of one of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which quieted her stomach
and she slept the whole night through.
Two boxes of these Tablets have effected a permanent cure and she is now well and strong. For sale by all druggists.

Corbett and Britt.
San Francisco, March 11.—Young Corbett and Jimmy Britt have signed an agreement for a new division of their share of the receipts for their fight March 25. According to the new articles, the winner is to receive 65 per cent and the loser 35 per cent.

Under the old agreement Britt was to get 50 per cent if he won and 40 per cent if he lost.

JAP. WARSHIPS
are beginning to advance, while 16 divisions of the Second Army corps
have already been mobilized.

As an illustration of the curiously contradictory character of reports from the far East received here, a correspondent of the Daily Chronicle at Yin Chau mentions Fung Wang Chang (which is about 45 miles northwest of Antung, in Manchuria) as one of several points of Russian concentration,
while other correspondents have reported that the Japanese have captured Fung Wang Chang. Other correspondents report that the Russians have mined all points where it is possible to cross the Yalu river.

The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that the Japanese, after Port Arthur is neutralized, probably will move two armies on the north simultaneously, one from the southern part of the Liao Tung peninsula and the other from the Yalu river.

The Russians are now moving northward in Korea, this correspondent continues, with the intention of making Wiju their defensive base.

A correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, who was in Japan recently, wires from Seoul that the Japanese are making steady progress with their land movements. The roads are occupied by Japanese troops.

According to a Tien-Tsin correspondent of the Standard the Russians are withdrawing all their superfluous troops from Port Arthur to Harbin and Kirin because of the shortage of provisions, and because it is doubtful whether or not they would be able to hold either Port Arthur or New Chwang against a resolute attack.

The spirit of the Russian troops, who are largely recruits, has been broken by starvation, cold and harsh treatment from their officers. The Russian losses on the Yalu river are reported to reach a total of two thousand men.

Cabling from Tokio a correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says the Jiji Shimpo has received a communication from Pekin, declaring that Great Britain and the United States have protested against Russia sinking junks in the channel of the Liao river at New Chwang, on the ground that this would prevent the egress of the warships of these powers from the river.

The Standard this morning publishes an article in which the writer points out the defenseless condition of the Amur river. Russia never profited from the experiences of the Boxer outbreak, he says, and she has no forts or gunboats on the river. It is probable that when the ice disappears the Japanese will send a fleet of gunboats
into the river and make themselves felt along its entire length.

MEETINGS

AT PLYMOUTH CHURCH PRODUC-TIVE OF GOOD RESULTS.

Three Newark Ministers Conducted
Last Night's Services—Good Music
and Able Addresses.

The union meeting last night had the additional influence of the Workers' prayer meeting. The spirit of the preliminary meeting pervaded the entire service. Rev. J. W. Maxwell showed clearly the necessity of repentance and amply illustrated from the Scriptures God's willingness to receive and bless the penitent. In the after meeting the Rev. H. N. Miller definitely defined repentance and showed the blessings that come to the contrite heart in surrender. The speakers were heard with marked attention. The prayer meeting will begin promptly at 7 o'clock tonight. Come through the auditorium to the pastor for this service. The praise service will begin at 7:30.

"A Clean Heart," sung by Miss Pearl Tawney and chorus, was highly appreciated by the audience.

Several new songs added to the interest of the praise service.

There was an increase in both audience and interest at the East Side last night. Definite decisions were made.
Rev. L. C. Sparks preached last night.
The song service begins at 7:15 tonight.

CARD OF THANKS.
I desire to thank the Switchmen's
Union, the A. O. U. W., the Central Railroad club, the B. & O. yard employes and friends who so kindly helped me during my bereavement over the death of my husband.

MRS. JOHN YOUNGMAN.

How He Landed
a Prize
(Original.)
Bob Collins and Jack Dutton were shipmates and friends on the schooner Sheridan. They had courted the same girl. Dutton had won. This would have made them enemies had it not been for a remarkable sense of justice, an absence of meanness, on the part of Collins.

"Here is my hand, Jack," he said
when he learned of his friend's success. "I'm no dog in a manger, and I wish you joy. Whatever she wants
I am glad that she shall have."

Collins was first, Dutton second, mate.
Soon after the Dutton marriage the Sheridan started on her outward trip, reached port without adventure and when the year 1903 was nearing its end started back for America, the crew expecting to spend the Christmas holidays at home. But December is liable to be a tempestuous month, and the ship encountered one gale after another. Then began a run of bad luck for the crew. Two seamen were washed overboard, one died of heart disease, one fell from the rigging to the deck and was killed, while his mate, who was aloft with him, fell into the boiling ocean and was drowned. The captain, who stood on deck for hours soaked in ice water, died of pneumonia. This closed the death list, leaving Collins in command, Dutton and two ordinary seamen to work the vessel.

One day they met a derelict. It had been cut nearly in two by another ship
and would have certainly gone down
had it not been loaded with cotton.
Collins saw the advantage of getting her into port and made preparations to take her in tow. Dutton and the two seamen protested, on the ground that they had enough to do to get themselves in, short handed as they were, without towing a derelict which might sink at any moment. In vain Collins pleaded with them, holding up the promise of prize money and assuring them that the cotton would keep the derelict afloat. They flatly refused to be further handicapped.

"Very well, Jack," said Collins. "You take the Sheridan in, and I'll go aboard
the derelict and stay there till I get picked up by some vessel with a full crew."

Neither the hope of reward nor the shame of leaving their captain in a position they considered almost certain death could induce any one of the crew to give in. So Collins, taking plenty of provisions, went aboard the derelict,
and the Sheridan sailed for home. The weather moderated, and the lone mariner managed to get up a sail that gave the hulk some headway. Then he got up another and another and, aided by the ship's instruments, put her head toward home. Every day he hoped he would meet a vessel, and every day he was disappointed. There came another storm that blew him far to the eastward. After that there was a long spell of good weather, and about the middle of January he sailed his prize
into the harbor of New London.

His first question was, "Has the Sheridan arrived?" and when he learned that she had not he was troubled. He feared she had been caught in the last storm and lost.

But there was a different kind of bucrancy in cotton that Collins had not calculated upon. The day he made port cotton was quoted at 17 cents a pound, and his prize was worth nearly twice what it would have brought ordinally. Collins succeeded in having the price fixed by the admiralty court
at 19 1/2 cents, nearly the highest price during the boom. When it was all over he went to see Mrs. Dalton.

"Jennie," he said, "whether you are to have your husband back I don't know. At any rate, you will be comfortable for the rest of your life. His share of the prize money—"

"His share? I thought it all belonged to you."

"No; it belongs to me and Jack and the two seamen who discovered it. It was agreed that they should stay aboard the Sheridan while I—"

Something in the man's halting manner convinced her that he was making up a story.

"Bob," she said, "you are not speaking the truth."

"Anyway, Jennie, I'll only take my share of the prize money, a total of $120,000. Whatever the seamen's share is shall go to them, and Jack's share goes to you."

"Bob," she said, looking at him impressively, her bosom heaving. "I won't have a cent of it. You brought in the vessel. I have talked about the matter with those who know, and they say that finding a prize is nothing, but bringing it in is everything."

"But, Jennie—"

"Wait! If Jack is spared to confirm your story and says it was agreed that he and two men should remain aboard a good ship while you alone were to take the chances on a derelict, all sharing in the prize money, you can pay his share to him."

This ended the conference for the time being. One day a steamer came into port, and it was telegraphed all over the land that she had picked up a boat with the name "Sheridan" painted on the stern, containing the bodies of three men. They proved to be the Sheridan's crew, but the story of the vessel's loss never was told.

It is yet too early for developments
as to the acceptance of Jack Dutton's share of the prize money by his widow,
but her observing friends do not hesitate to predict that at the expiration of a year from the finding of the Sheridan's boat load of dead she will accept her widow's share and Bob Collins'
share, with Bob Collins thrown in.
They furthermore declare that Mrs.
Dutton will be the principal part of Collins' prize. BUCHANAN HUNT.

Motherly Advice

Every mother possesses information of vital value to her young daughter. That daughter is a precious legacy, and the responsibility for her future is largely in the hands of the mother. The mysterious change that develops the thoughtless girl into the thoughtful woman should find the mother on the watch day and night. As she cares for the physical well-being of her daughter, so will the woman be, and her children also.

When a young girl's thoughts become sluggish, when she experiences headaches, dizziness, faintness, and exhibits an abnormal disposition to sleep, pains in the back and lower limbs, eyes dim, desire for solitude, and a dislike for the society of other girls, when she is a mystery to herself and friends, then the mother should go to her aid promptly. At such a time aid nature a little and prepare the young system for the coming change by using

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Case of a Young Girl, of Interest to Every Mother and Daughter in the Land.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to write you these few lines thanking you for what you have done for me. I was in a terrible condition, could not eat or sleep, had no strength, felt tired all the time. I had such a bad color that my mother was very much worried about me. Also suffered with headache, backache, pains all over. Menstruation was very irregular and scanty, and had such bearing-down pains. I have taken both the Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and now I am a well girl. I cannot be grateful enough for what Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies have done for me. I would advise all who suffer as I did to write to you for advice.—Miss KATIE C. CONNOR, 102 S. Franklin St., Wilmington, Del."

A medicine that has restored so many women to health and can produce proof of the fact must be regarded with respect. This is the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which cannot be equalled by any other medicine the world has ever produced.

It is well to remember these facts when some druggist asks you to buy something which he says is "just as good." That is impossible, as no other medicine has such a record of cures as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; so do not experiment with untried medicines, but insist upon the one you know is best.

SPECIAL ADVICE TO YOUNG WOMEN FREE.

From a vast experience in treating female ills, extending over 20 years, Mrs. Pinkham has gained a knowledge which is of untold value to every ailing young woman. Her advice never fails to help. If you need such help write her. Address, Lynn, Mass.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letter and signature of above testimonial, which will prove its absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

AMUSEMENTS

THE JEFFERSONS.

In speaking of William W. Jefferson's performance of Bob Acres in "The Rivals" at Powers' theater, Chicago, Ill., The Tribune, which is about the most conservative journal of that metropolis, said: "It remains to speak of Mr. William W. Jefferson's Bob Acres. It was really a remarkable performance. Mr. Joseph Jefferson it is said, has claimed that William once played the part and the audience never knew that it was not his father. This is rather a rash statement, but there were times last night when it almost seemed that it may be true. In face, form, gesture and occasionally voice, William Jefferson was entirely his father, and he deserves enormous credit to step so early at his age, into his father's shoes." Joseph Jefferson, Jr., will play Sir Lucius O'Trigger, the same character he has always played while touring with his father in "The Rivals." This organization, which is the same one (with a few minor exceptions) that was in support of Mr. Joseph Jefferson during the short preliminary tour this season, should prove the best, that ever appeared upon the local stage. "The Rivals" will be the attraction at the Auditorium March 18. The supporting company includes Messrs. John Jack, Guy Combs, Percy Plunkett, James Lewis, Folliott Paget, Blanche Bender, Meta Greene and others, all members of the original Joseph Jefferson company.

A THOROUGHbred TRAMP.

While the country is burdened theatrically with tramp plays, few have attained any standing with theater goers. "A Thoroughbred Tramp," which was the very first in the field, has outlived all its imitators and nightly proves its popularity with theatergoers by being greeted with overflowing patronage. But "A Thoroughbred Tramp" contains much interesting dialogue, excellent comedy and splendid climaxes. The fun is of the uproarious sort and brings forth laughter and applause of lasting duration. At the Auditorium March 17.

SMOKER TO LOSE POWER OF SPEECH

New York, March 11.—Thomas J. McGuire, treasurer of a theatre here, and widely known in the profession of the stage, has said farewell to his friends in preparation for a surgical operation which will deprive him of ever speaking again, if indeed, he survives with his life.

McGuire came here in 1881 from San Francisco, where he had been treasurer of two leading theatres. For years he had smoked 25 or more cigars daily, and this, it is supposed, started a cancerous growth at the roots of his tongue.

Within six weeks his hair has turned entire white.

HAGUE TRIBUNAL

Costs a Good Round Sum—Non-Allied Powers Must Wait a While for Their Money.

Washington, March 11.—The official copy of the decision of The Hague tribunal in the Venezuelan cases has just been received at the state department.

The cost to the United States for its share of the expenses of the tribunal will amount to $14,800. The government must also pay fees of its own special counsel in the case, which will amount to a great deal more than the above figures.

The total of the claims allowed against Venezuela is in the neighborhood of $10,000,000, about half of which goes to the allied powers, and until they are paid the United States and associated powers get nothing. The estimated 39 per cent receipts of customs duties which Venezuela is to apply to the payments of these claims is about $400,000 per annum, so that it may be nearly ten years unless business increases, before the non-allied powers would begin to receive their award.

STRAIGHT TALK ABOUT GETTING WELL

If this was the only medicine advertisement in this newspaper, we believe you would quickly try a bottle of our Rexall Mucu-Tone. But you have read the extravagant claims of so many marvelous medicines that you have grown skeptical. Let us reason with you a moment.

We say to you positively and without reservation that we have never before known a tonic or cathartic cure to accomplish the results worked by Mucu-Tone. It is a scientific, meritorious, reliable remedy. We know how it is compounded, and we unhesitatingly give it our endorsement—not only our endorsement, but our guarantee.

If you try a bottle of Rexall Mucu-Tone and are not thoroughly satisfied with it, we will refund your money promptly, cheerfully and without any red-tape.

Now, we can't afford to allow such strong statements to be printed in our advertising space unless we know we are right. If we deceived you in this advertisement, we would lose your confidence and your trade—and we don't spend money in advertising for the purpose of losing trade.

SOME OF OUR REASONS.

Let us give you some of our reasons for talking so earnestly about Rexall Mucu-Tone.

You know that our bodies are lined with a thin, web-like skin called the mucous membrane. It begins in the nose and mouth and extends down the throat through the stomach, intestines and bladder. It also covers the liver and kidneys; and in women, the pelvic organs.

Now this membrane is composed of millions of tiny cells filled with a fluid called mucus, which is a sort of lubricant for the various organs. If a few of these cells should become choked up and unable to supply this fluid, it would cause sickness; if most of them were so affected it would cause death.

WHAT IT MEANS TO BE "RUN DOWN."

This is what causes the state of ill health and weakness which exists when you are "run down."

when the doctor tells you you are suffering with "general debility."

We know of one remedy that will correct these conditions and restore health—Rexall Mucu-Tone.

There is no need of a technical description of how Mucu-Tone is quickly taken up in the digestive process and, entering the blood, is carried through the net-work of tiny capillaries and so is brought in direct contact with the sore membranes.

NEW LIFE! NEW VIGOR!

What you—what all of us—are interested in is getting rid of the pain we are suffering, in regaining the strength we have lost, in restoring the vigor of youth, in filling our arteries with rich, red blood and building up our bodies and in steadying our fagged nerves.

Rexall Mucu-Tone does all of this and does it quickly. There is no long waiting for promised effects to slowly make their appearance; no months of deferred hope; no realization that you have again wasted money that you could ill afford to lose; no final despair.

MRS. BEAUREGARD TELLS EXPERIENCE.

"I have taken every cathartic remedy I ever heard of—have tried each of them faithfully—in my efforts to get rid of a bad case of catarrh of the stomach and intestines which for three years has made my life miserable, but I can truthfully say that none of them can in any way compare with Rexall Mucu-Tone. The others may have helped me somewhat but—Mucu-Tone cured me. I did not believe it possible that I could ever again feel as well as I have for the past three weeks. Twenty years have passed since been taken off my shoulders and I feel so well I could almost shout for joy. All pain and all of the nauseating symptoms have disappeared. Good, red blood is coursing through my veins and I am as strong as I am happy. All success to Mucu-Tone."

Mrs. Beauregard
219 Second St., Albany, N. Y."

We know that Mucu-Tone will do all this and we hereby agree to refund your money if you find it otherwise.

Mucu-Tone is one of the famous Rexall Remedies, which are sold only at our store. Large bottles, 89 cents. Mail orders filled.

NEWS OF THE STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD

WAITING ROOM

For Newark and Zanesville Interurban Located in the Slack Building, Corner Sixth and Main.

Zanesville, O., March 11.—Work on remodeling the Slack building at Sixth and Main streets was started Thursday. The remodeling of the building to suit the occupancy of it by the Zanesville Railway, Light and Power company and the new interurban railway company will be pushed and it is expected that all work will be finished by April 1.

General Manager Gibbs has said that the city railway company has a lease and also an option on the building. The extensive improvements are to be made at the cost of $5,000 and because of this it is thought the two companies will buy the building before the option limit is passed.

On the first floor of the building will be located the ticket office and waiting room of the city railway company and a new vault will also be installed on this floor. On the second floor will be the general offices of the two companies, while in the basement will be located a barber shop.

CHICKEN FIGHT

Newark Birds in Big Cocking Main at Zanesville—Considerable Money Changed Hands on Results.

Zanesville, O., March 11.—The largest cocking main ever held in this county from a standpoint of money that changed hands was in progress last night and this morning a few hundred yards from the city limits.

The mains were between Zanesville and Allegheny (Pa.) cocks. The total number of birds shown in the mains were fifteen. The first were for $25 a fly and for $150 on the odd.

Up until an early hour this morning the locals had the better of the mains, leading by a small margin. The amount of money that changed hands during the evening would amount to thousands. The backers of the Allegheny birds were there with rolls of "long green," and they did not hesitate to back their cocks freely.

The hacks that opened the main were about evenly divided among the different cocks. Youngstown, Pittsburg, Akron, Columbus, Newark, Marion, Circleville, Mt. Vernon and Gerard were represented.

It is thought by many who have kept a close tab on cocking mains that this fight will end disastrously for the locals although they lead in the opening mains.

Odd Fellows Plan to Build a Temple—Meeting to Discuss Project Held This Evening

Zanesville, O., March 11.—Plans to convert the present I. O. O. F. building into one of the finest lodge and business blocks in the city will be discussed this evening at a meeting of the directors of the Odd Fellows' Hall association. Beyond a doubt the directors will vote for the new building.

All the stock in the association, with the exception of three shares, is held by the various Odd Fellows' lodges of this city. The lodges holding stock voted separately in favor of the new temple, which promises to be one of the finest in the state.

DICK REMAINED

To Help the Legislature Settle the Liquor Question.

Columbus, O., March 11.—United States Senator Dick did not return to Akron last night, as planned upon his arrival here last Tuesday. He remained over to finish up some political conferences which should have taken place last night, but which did not because he was forced to go to bed from sheer exhaustion. His work in handling the hasty General Assembly on the infamous Chapman bill required enormous exertion. The local option bill is up today, and it will require some delicate handling owing to the desire of each side to get the advantage.

CONFERENCE

OF MINISTERS TO BE HELD AT GRANVILLE

On March 23-25—Distinguished Men Are to Be Present at the Meeting.

Granville, O., March 11.—One of the most important events in the state this spring will be the Ministers' conference to be held in Granville on March 23, 24 and 25. The conference is for ministers, ministerial students, and Sunday school workers, and will be held under the auspices of Denison university. Distinguished members of the theological faculties have promised their presence and an unusual opportunity will be afforded for the minister to come into touch with the best results of theological thought, for the student to gain ideas as to a theological course, and for ministers and others to be brought into the heart of the recent profound movement for the improvement of Sunday school methods.

The deep interest taken in the proposed conference is shown by the readiness with which the evangelistic committee of the Ohio Baptist convention, the State B. Y. P. U., the Northern Ohio Baptist Ministers' conference and the Sunday school organizations have agreed to co-operate in the conference, the Northern Ohio conference merging its annual meeting into this.

The university will take every pains to make the occasion agreeable and profitable. An opportunity will be given for visiting the grounds and buildings, and Professors Herrick and C. W. Chamberlin will exhibit the apparatus and methods of research in the physical and biological laboratories. The following names will appear upon the program, some of them several times. Several of our prominent new pastors will be given a first introduction to their brethren.

Professor Shailer Mathews, Ph. D., dean of the Divinity school of the University of Chicago, author of "Principles and Ideals for the Sunday School," and other works.

Dr. Edgar Y. Mullins, president of Louisville Theological seminary, and member educational committee of the International Sunday School association.

Dr. Charles Richmond Henderson, professor of sociology in the University of Chicago, and author of notable sociological works.

Dr. Walter Calley, general secretary B. Y. P. U. of America.

Rev. Horace P. Whidden, pastor First Baptist church, Dayton, formerly professor of Biblical Interpretation, Brandon college, Man.

Rev. Joel B. Slocum, pastor First Baptist church, Columbus.

Other names will be definitely announced later. It is expected that opportunity for discussion and questioning will be largely used.

As far as possible entertainment will be furnished, and all are requested to send word of their expected attendance as soon as possible to A. S. CARMAN, Chairman Com.

IN MID-AIR

Clinging to a Rope, the Convict Was Seen by the Guard in Attempt to Escape.

Columbus, O., March 11.—Frank McGuire, a Lucas county prisoner in the penitentiary made an unsuccessful effort to escape from the penitentiary last night. He was climbing up a rope from the top of a cell block to a ventilator in the roof when Guard P. G. Laros saw him swinging in midair. The guard compelled McGuire to descend.

McGuire was well prepared to get away and if it had not been for the sharp eyes of the guard another escape would have been recorded. Besides the rope, made from sheets, which he used to reach the ventilator, McGuire had a rope 50 feet long made of blankets. This would have given him free passage from the roof of the penitentiary to the ground.

McGuire was received March 2, 1905, to serve three years for burglary.

BURGLARS

Were Frightened Away by Man's Screams, While Attempting to Rob His House.

Delaware, O., March 11.—Burglars were foiled Thursday in an attempt to plunder the residence of C. D. Young, a prominent jeweler. Young was aroused from his sleep, gave a yell that sent burglars tumbling out of the house and then started in pursuit armed only with rocks. The burglars turned and fired three times at their pursuer, one bullet passing through his clothes.

ARRESTED FOR THEFT.

Norwalk, O., March 11.—When the Lake Shore electric limited Thursday morning arrived here a young man named Fred Gibson was arrested on word from Toledo, charged with stealing from Delta, O., a gold watch and chain and some money. Gibson confessed to the theft of the watch and $20 found on his person. He was taken to Toledo this afternoon.

DONE BY THE SALVATION ARMY IN NEWARK.

More Than 100 Poor Families Assisted With Money, Food, Fuel and Clothing This Winter

The Salvation Army may very properly be called the world's great charitable clearing house, in and through which the public's money is carried to a thousand different needs and necessities, and to the balancing of as many philanthropic accounts. This is by no means a figurative expression, for, like the clearing house, the army handles not its own but other people's money and in its activity expresses, as it were, the condition of the world's philanthropic market. It took the world some time to find this out, but today we know it as a fact. Colonies for the landless, shelters for the homeless, industrial homes for the workless, supply stores for the poorest, rescue homes for the fallen, children's homes for the orphaned, hotels for the respectable workmen and workingwomen, these, to say nothing of the countless expressions of local relief among the poor and wretched, are but a few out of the score of efforts to the maintenance of which the public's money goes.

The local work in our city has been busy for the past two months in helping the worthy poor.

More than one hundred families have been assisted with money food and coal, besides over one thousand articles of clothing have been collected from all parts of the city and distributed to those in need.

Many thanks are due to those who have assisted by their giving toward this worthy cause and may their reward be many times greater.

JAMES SMITH

Pearl Street Carpenter Is Lying Very Sick at His Home With Congestion of the Brain.

Mr. James Smith, the well-known carpenter and contractor, is lying very sick at his home on Pearl street. On Wednesday night he was apparently in the best of health and remained up later than usual. Some time during the night he arose from his bed and went downstairs. His wife, thinking that he was remaining longer than was necessary, went downstairs and found him sitting in a chair before the fire, holding his head in his hands. She asked him what ailed him, when he said that he thought he was losing his mind and that it was all up with him. A physician was called who decided that he was suffering with congestion of the brain. He has a brother, Dr. Smith, who lives in Utica.
